Amano Christian School
Electronic Policy
(Parent's copy)

Acceptable use: The primary purpose of all our electronic resources and the Internet is to support the school's educational mission. While it is impossible to prevent the truly determined from accessing questionable material, we have attempted to secure thorough and complete content protection for our students and staff.

The purpose of this agreement is to outline the rules for using the local area network and the Internet at Amano Christian School. Because of the cost and sensitivity of computer equipment, and because of the unregulated nature of material found on the Internet, all students must adhere to these rules for usage. Users are responsible for ensuring that their activities conform to Amano Christian School's standards as an institution of Christian education and are consistent with Biblical principles and values. Philippians 4:8 "Whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable – if anything is excellent or praiseworthy – think on these things."

Network storage areas may be treated like school lockers. Network administrators may review files and communications at any time in order to maintain system integrity and ensure that users are using the system responsibly. Users should not expect the files will be private.

Passwords: If a password is assigned to a student, that password should remain secure. Passwords should not be shared or transferred. All users of the network will be accountable for their use of the computer, including any use of a computer by someone using their user name and password. All users assume responsibility (personal, legal, financial, and otherwise) for their actions while using the computer network and while accessing Internet content over the station's communicating system.
